THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 3d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, MILWAUKEE, February 14, 1888.

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 5th, 1888, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large,) to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 3d day of June, A. D. 1888, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

R. H. BAKER, Chairman.
T. D. WEEKS, CHAS. LUTHE, H. PALMER, G. W. CARTER, J. H. KEYS, JAMES H. FOSTER,
P. L. SPOONER, Jr., L. B. SALE, J. H. WAGGONER, HENRY COUSINS, E. BOWEN, S. A. HERRICK, J. H. BISHOP, S. W. HUNT, L. F. FRISBY, H. O. FAIRCHILD, State Central Committee.

The man who can be elected—Washburne.

It is surprising how easily a Democratic boom can be laid away.

National banks are on the increase, and none have failed for nearly a year.

The Democrats going to Cincinnati may properly be called the "Pool's Errand."

It was Thomas Jefferson who first said in regard to office holders, that "few die and none resign."

The postal telegraph scheme is before Congress again. It is folly for Congress to delay passing that important bill.

The result of the delegate conventions in Rock county, shows that Washburne is the strongest candidate in the county.

There are a good many Democrats who get mad at Tilden's "feebleness." In the old Sage, they don't like that kind of feebleness.

Voorhees feels like kicking himself when he thinks that he has spent $45,000 to furnish the Republicans a good campaign document.

If it were not for the barrel, there would not be any division of sentiment as to what should be done with Tilden. It is hard to kick against the barrel.

The only way to make the Republican party "solid" is to give it a candidate whose record and character is absolutely pure, and which would defy criticism.

The name of J. B. Cassoday is being prominently mentioned as a delegate to the National Convention. The State does not contain a better man for that service, and the First District will honor itself by selecting him.

Milwaukee county sends a delegation to the State Convention strongly in favor of John Sherman for President. Blaine has no following there. This change of sentiment in the State regarding Mr. Blaine and the Presidency, is one of the marked occurrences of the time.

The recent investigations ordered by the United States Senate have proved expensive schemes, and nothing has been gained by them. The cost as reported by the Secretary of the Senate is as follows: The Ingalls investigation, $5,408.26; the Kellogg, $7,297.48; the investigation in Rhode Island, $3,475.93; the committee on the massacre and removal of Northern Cheyenne Indians, $5,287.65; the Southern Exodus Commission, $16,525.30; the Freeman's Bank, $3,079.50.

An item like this, from the Brooklyn Eagle, Democratic, give somewhat of an idea of the condition of things in the Democratic party: "Mr. Tilden should speak out, or get out. The situation bids fair to be grave enough to justify the holding of a conference of the leading Democrats of the State, who are not opposed to Mr. Tilden because John Kelly is, and who do not desire to see him head a funeral procession in the belief that it is a Presidential contest, because John Kelly and his followers are determined not to join in this interesting ceremony."

The pay of census enumerators is a question of some importance just now, and the following provision on that subject from a recent circular issued by the census department, will prove of interest: "Two and one-fourth cents per name, except in cities and towns containing 2,000 inhabitants or more, according to the census of 1870, when the rate will be 2 cents per name. For each death reported 5 cents.
For establishments of productive industry reported (manufactures), as follows: For each establishment returned on the special schedule of manufactures, 25 cents. These rates are of course, subject to the provision of law, that no enumerator shall receive in excess of $4 per day."

THE OHIO CONVENTION.

Those who attend the Chicago Convention doubtless expect to see "lively times" in that body, and probably they will not be disappointed. There are influences at work which will bring about a pretty hot contest, but there will be no bitterness and no bolting. Like a storm before the clearing of the sky, the National Republican Convention may see the "warring of the elements" which will compose that body, but when the man is named, the ticket completed, and the platform of principles announced, every man will solemnly pledge himself and the party that he will not lose any of the spirit of Republicanism, nor shrink responsibility, but will renew his strength, and so far as he is concerned, the Republican party win the victory of 1880.

Those who expect that madness will control the National Convention will be disappointed. There will be too much intelligence, too much loyalty, too much common sense among the delegates to allow any of the Democratic customs to creep into the Convention. The strife that is now going on between the factions will be wiped out when the Convention shall have done its work. The Blaine, the Grant, the Washburne, and the Sherman wings of the party will stand shoulder to shoulder in the contest with the Democratic party for the Presidency.
They all know enough to lay aside personal preferences when the majority shall have named the man, and the only ambition there will be will be to unite for the success of the principles of the party.

We express this much faith in the intelligence and good sense of the Republicans who will compose the National Convention. We express the hope that there shall be that determination on the part of the leaders of each of the candidates to stand together, united in one purpose, and firm in the pledge to see that the Republican candidates whoever he may be, is triumphantly elected. There will be some earnestness in this matter. The leaders of the party understand, or should understand, that practical strength comes of harmony, and the laying aside of all personal preferences when the nomination is made. It will not do for the Republicans to place any faith in the weakness of the Democratic nomination, nor expect that the breach in the party will help the Republicans. There must be no reliance in Democratic blunders or Democratic split.
The only reliance for the Republicans is in the excellence of their own nomination, and in their ability to harmonize and pull together. This, and nothing else, will lead to victory.

MILWAUKEE GRAIN REPORT.

Special Correspondence Janesville Gazette.

MILWAUKEE, May 3.—A. M. 9 a. m.
DEAR SIR:—The nervous and uncertain tone which has characterized the market of late has shown no change during the past week, prices receding until Wednesday when May sold at $1.06 1/2 and June at $1.07 1/2, at which point, as has been the case at every break in the market, recently, large buying orders came in and prices were advanced with as great rapidity as had been the decline, selling up to $1.10 May and $1-10 1/2 June on Saturday morning and closing with prices 1 1/2 on cash No. 2 and 2 1/2 cents on May lower than one week ago, while June which had ruled at two to three cents discount when May closed at 1/2 cent premium, and about 3/4 cent higher than at date of last report. The demand for cash wheat has been mainly for home use, shippers preferring to wait the result of delivery day before making any further ventures. Our stock showing a decrease of 43,000 bushels for the week. The deliveries on May contracts were fair, and aside from some lots which were purchased at the low figures for shipment, was taken up by the clique agents and locked up to await a prospective demand from the hungry hordes of starving Europe. The increased activity among our vessel men would indicate a large outward movement during the coming week, as all the available freight room was engaged on Saturday, embracing six vessels with a total capacity of 187,000 bushels. At Chicago the deliveries on May contracts were reported light and all centering in the hands of the clique, who are now supposed to control all the No. 2 and No. 2 hard spring wheat in both markets. The demand at seaboard points has been fair, the outward movement for the week being about 9,000 bushels. Seeding throughout the spring wheat sections has progressed but slowly, much of the low lands being still too wet to prepare for the seed, and many fields sown early are now covered with water, causing fears that the seed will decay before germination shall have commenced, reports from all sections indicating about one-third of the seeding yet to be done.

Receipts here show an increase over the previous week, the daily average for the week being about 23,000 bushels as against 9,000 the week before, 15,000 bushels the same week last year, and about 114,000 bushels for the same week in 1878. The total receipts at spring wheat points for the week were 283,000 bushels as against 147-000 bushels the previous week, 537,000 bushels the same week last year, and 121,000 for the same week in 1878.

The amount of wheat in sight in this country as reported up to the 24th inst., was 21,435,000 bushels, showing a decrease of 1,505,000 bushels during the preceding week, still leaving the "visible supply" larger by 3,715,000 bushels than at a corresponding date last year.

The amount of wheat on passage for Great Britain and the continent, reported on the 24th inst., was 21,180,000 bushels, showing an increase since previous report of 1,289,000 bushels, and still larger by about 4,905,000 bushels than at a corresponding date last year.

The grand total in sight in this country, and about for English and continental ports, aggregating 42,615,000 bushels, against 42,810,000 bushels the previous week, and 33,992,000 bushels at a corresponding date in 1878.

Foreign markets have been unsettled and nervous, moving in sympathy with reports from this side showing a dull and declining tendency up to Friday, when a complete revulsion of feeling seemed to have taken place with a good demand noted at 16 to 18 1/2 in advance in prices, closing with a decline for the week of 3 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents on spot wheat, and cargoes to arrive quoted the same one week ago, an advance of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 from the lowest quotations of the week.

We have again to note a large margin against shipment, No. 2 to arrive being quoted at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 while at present price here it costs $1.40 1/2 down at Liverpool.

Yours truly,
CHANDLER, BROWN & CO.

FROM MADISON.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, May 4.—Sylvester Halverson and Alene, the young Norwegians, who were held in five hundred dollars bail each, charged with killing a little Indian boy four years old, at an Indian encampment at McFarland, were re-arrested this morning, charged with raping the squaw, Wenubka, and held in the sum of two thousand dollars each.

Indian George, who attempted suicide, by cutting his throat last Friday, is gaining slowly, having been moved to the Indian encampment at Rodermond's Woods, where he is attended by an Indian doctor, from Portage. This doctor disagrees with the white doctors in regard to the death of Wenubka's unborn child and claims he will be able to save both the mother and child. The prospects are now that George and Wenubka will both recover.

Quite a number of delegates to the State Convention have arrived, and many more are expected this evening.
The investigating committee into the affairs of the Wisconsin Asylum met here this morning and went to the Asylum to commence the examination of the books of that institution.

VETOED.

The Immediate Deficiency Bill Vetoed by the President.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Some of the newspapers this morning gave alleged points in the forthcoming President's message vetoing the immediate deficiency bill before he had received the bill from Congress or written the veto message. To-day he received the bill from the House and immediately prepared his veto message, writing it, himself, in half an hour, on two sheets of paper. The message is very brief, no more language being used than necessary to convey his general ideas of disapproval.

He does not argue the merits of the bill, but bases his veto upon the simple fact that the clause in relation to the appointment of deputy marshals by judges of Federal courts is not germane to the bill; that it is, in fact, the stifling of legislation to appropriation bills. To this the President objects, and states his objections pointedly.
He states his disapproval of the whole practice which has grown up of attaching riders to appropriation bills which are meant to cause existing statutes. The President thinks that the clause referred to is an independent proposition, and should stand upon its merits, if it stand it can, without being tacked onto an appropriation bill. The practice of attaching laws changing existing statutes to an appropriation bill he thinks an unmixed evil, and should be stopped now and at once. He expressed his views on this subject very pointedly, but briefly. He thinks the habit a vicious one, and the fact that both parties have done it makes it no better. He makes no point against the appointment of deputy marshals from the two parties equally. In conversation he is understood to favor this proposition. But confiding their appointment to judges he thinks an obscure and dangerous piece of legislation, and it is doubtful if he will approve it as independent proposition, in which shape it will probably come back to him from Congress.

BANK ROBBERY.

A Gang of Chicago Crackmen Go Through a Kentucky Bank.

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—The Courier-Journal Paris special says: "Some weeks since the Clearing House at Louisville notified the Kentucky banks that four expert Chicago crackmen were in the State and to be on the lookout for them. There has evidently been a failure to do this. This morning upon opening the Citizens' Bank, the Cashier discovered that the vault had been entered.
An entrance was effected by the cellar of the house in which the bank is situated.
The house had been unoccupied for several weeks, and the burglars had all day Sunday, besides Saturday and Sunday night, to work unmolested. The vault is a poor one, made of brick, and the failure of the burglars to enter the main safe can only be attributed to their being scared off, as they left a magnificent kit of tools behind a box containing $400 and a package containing $19,500 in bonds were taken. Ten thousand dollars of the bonds are of the Cincinnati Southern, and belong to Mrs.

C. S. Breat, of this city. Nine thousand five hundred dollars are Carlisle, Ky., bonds, the property of Mrs. John Marshall, of Covington, Ky. Payment on the latter can be stopped, but the bank officials say the Southern bonds can only be regained by a compromise with the burglars.

MASSACRE.

Thirteen Sheep-Herders and Two Miners Killed by Victoria's Band.

DENVER, Col., May 4.—A dispatch just received from Santa Fe, N. M., states that a band of Apaches, under Victoria, attacked a body of sheep herders in the Mogallan mountains last week, and killed thirteen of them, among whom were Meliquidez Charcz, head herder, and Antoine Abon, Montana Francisco, Padilla Jose, M. banchez, Cruz Jaramillo, Francisco Jaramillo, and Manuel Sanchez, subordinate. They all dived off and scattered 100,000 head sheep belonging to Felipe Charcz, one of the richest sheep owners in New Mexico. Other advices say that, at about the same time, several ranches were attacked, and an American, named Wilcox, killed. Two other Americans, miners named Conney and Quick are supposed to be killed. The settlers are harried together in a panic, and are being driven by the Indians. Great anxiety is felt for them, and relief parties are starting out.

MURDERED HIS BROTHER.

A Discharged Lunatic Murders His Brother in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—The Rev. J. H.
Goodwin, of Brookville, Indiana, who is here attending the Methodist General Conference, to-night received a dispatch from home stating that Dr. D. H. Goodwin, a brother and also a member of the General Conference, had been murdered by their brother, Colonel Goodwin. The Colonel, it seems, was a hard drinker, and had been a burden upon the family for years, and a year ago, becoming a victim to delirium, he was sent to the Insane Asylum. On Thursday he was discharged and came back to Brookville breathing vengeance upon his brother. To day at 4 o'clock he met him, and accusing him of causing his incarceration, shot him causing his death, which occurred at 7 o'clock tonight. The Doctor was an ex member of Congress, and a man highly respected at home. He has been here Saturday attending the Methodist General Conference as a delegate, and was to have returned to his seat to-night. The tragedy causes much excitement in the ministerial circles here.

CASUALTY.

EAU CLAIRE, May 2.—A man named Wm Ginder, whose home is somewhere in Dakota, foolishly undertook the perilous feat of riding a log over the falls at Chippewa yesterday afternoon, and was drowned. He had just come down from the Chippewa drive; if rumors are correct, he had been drinking freely, which caused the unfortunate mishap.

An unknown man was discovered in the Eau Claire this evening badly mangled and swollen as to be unrecognizable.

CREMATION SCHEME.

NEWARK, May 3.—A proposition has been made that the gas works be converted into a crematory. It is claimed that the furnaces and iron cradles used for running coal into the retorts at the works are peculiarly adapted for consuming bodies, and preserving the ashes in barrels. On the theory that the human body will yield, in burning 350 feet of gas, it would enable the Gas Company to incinerate without charge.

DROWNED.

APPLETON, May 3.—George Lite, a young man about 18, and an only son of an old resident of this city, was accidentally drowned yesterday. He was duck shooting in a canoe on Fox River, and rising to shoot lost his balance and fell into the water and was drowned before assistance could reach him. His body was afterwards recovered.

FROM PORTER.

To the Editor.

PORTER, April 24, 1888.
Your correspondent has been waiting some time to hear from the Cooksville correspondent in regard to the election, thinking, perhaps, he would correct the errors he made in respect to the caucus he mentioned in the Gazette of the 8th inst.; and would at least reconsider his words after the election, which resulted in the election of a radical Democrat on the so-called Republican ticket. The facts of the case are simply these: There was no Republican caucus called at that time and place, but a union caucus requesting the votes to attend, irrespective of party, and not as your Cooksville correspondent would infer, a Democratic dodge, there being fully as many Republicans remaining in the union caucus as Democrats. The union ticket at the election was principally supported by the Republicans, the Democrats voting largely for the so-called Republican ticket. The reason the Republicans took part in the union caucus was because they were opposed to an unequal taxation throughout the town, and decidedly opposed to a reckless expenditure of money, as has been the case the past year.

BRIEFLETS.

—House cleaners are busy.
—The soda fountains succeed by fizzling.
—The front doors can now have their openings.

—The case of Caufman vs. Stevens is still on trial in the Circuit Court to-day.
—Miss Porter's class recital will take place next Tuesday evening, May 11th, at Lippin's Music Hall.

—Robson and Crane, who are to be at the Opera house on the evening of the 13th are to play "Our Bachelors."
—Hon. J. B. Cassady, C. L. Valentine and others besides the delegates, will attend the Convention at Madison to-morrow.

—Coup's big circus has telegraphed for bill boards which they will spread with paper advertising their show which will be here on the 23d inst.

—The Beloit Guards are having their uniforms retimed to conform with the State regulation requiring uniforms of blue with buff trimmings. The clothes will be fixed over in time for Decoration day.

—A merry fishing party went out to Indian Ford yesterday. The party consisted of Dr. McCausey, Rev. T. W. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cummings, Mrs. Moseley and Miss Stella Ashcraft. They captured 85 pounds of fine fish, and had a jolly time.

—The stone crossing on Jackson street near the railroad track should have a switch flag as a warning to those who have tender feet. It's a stumbling stone to the unwary. On the other side of the street there is a fine chance for a man to take a tumble and get in a hole.

—A fellow a little the worse for tarrying at the cup, went down to the river bank near North Main street this morning, and disrobing, proceeded to take a refreshing bath. Marshall Russell spotted him, and gave him a chance to dry off in jail. He gave his name as Dennis Foley.

—Last Saturday evening Darius Allen delivered his lecture on "The Horrors of the License Law," in the Assembly chamber at Madison to a large audience made up of many prominent citizens. State officials, members of the bar, etc. Governor Smith presided on the occasion.

—The trial of David Lowry, Jr., of Centerville, for carrying concealed weapons, and for pointing a revolver at a neighbor George W. Brown, was ended before Justice Brooks to-day, the accused being found guilty and fined $1 and costs. The affair was not of a very serious nature. Brown was in a previous trial found guilty of assault, and now he has the satisfaction to see Lowry fined for his part in the little row.

—"The Mission Band," composed of girls mostly belonging to the Baptist Bible School, under the efficient leadership of Miss Mary Hoskins, gave a very unique entertainment in the way of a missionary sociable, in the parlors of the church last evening. There were about one hundred in attendance, and the cause will, no doubt, receive a strong impulse by reason of the exercises engaged in, and the acquaintances made.

—It is to be hoped that the ordinance proposed in the Council last night to shut up the cows will be passed at the next meeting. Many of the property owners who are contemplating the planting of trees and the making of other improvements to beautify their own premises, and add to the attractiveness of the city, are waiting anxiously for the result. Janesville can not afford to have its streets kept filthy and its shrubbery destroyed, for the sake of furnishing pasture for the benefit of a few cow owners.

Elegant Accommodations, lowest prices. ARROW HOUSE, N. Y.

THE FOLIO.

The Folio for May is one of the finest numbers ever issued of that sterling monthly. It is devoted to music, drama, and literature, and in these fields it covers the ground admirably. The illustration in this number is a fine portrait of that peerless tenor, Campanella. The portrait is an excellent one and is accompanied by an interesting biographical sketch.

In the musical department, are a song and chorus—Grandma's Old Arm Chair, by Frank Blair; When You're Afraid, by F. Clay; Speak Softly to the Fatherless, by J. A. Barney; Our Comrades Bicen, a new Decoration hymn. The instrumental music is good, and the notes pertaining to music, drama and literature, fresh and interesting. Published at one dollar a

CRUDED AND STABBED.

Richard Money Jr., Suddenly Killed Last Night Just Out of Harvard.

A Strange Fatality.

By a strange fatality another crushing blow has fallen upon the family of Richard Money. Hardly two months have passed since the mangled body of his son was brought home from Chicago, where he was killed by being run over by a railroad train, and now a similar accident has caused the sudden death of his only remaining son, Richard Money Jr.

It appears that young Money was away from home hunting for work, he being a butcher by trade. He was probably expecting to go to Chicago, as he had directed his father to send his clothes to a relatives there, and only yesterday the old man had expressed his satchel to that point. It seems that he was in the hope of catching onto some train, and had gone out on the track of the Madison division a few miles from Harvard, last night, and sat down on the rail to rest. Here he fell asleep, and a train coming along at the usual speed, was close upon him before the engineer noticed him. The whistle was blown, bell rung, and young Money awoke and started up, but too late. The engine struck him, and threw him from the track a distance of fifty or sixty feet. When he was reached he was in a dying condition, but was taken to Harvard, where in the course of an hour or so he breathed his last.

Besides the terrible internal injuries which he must have suffered, there was a contusion near the left temple, and his right arm was broken. He had with him a set of butcher knives, such as he used at his trade, and these had been forced into his body, making several terrible gashes. A telegram was at once sent to his father here, and he proceeded to Harvard reaching there about 4 o'clock this morning, but his son was already dead, and there remained nothing which he could do, save to bring the mangled remains home, arriving here this afternoon. The funeral service took place immediately after the arrival of the remains.

Young Money was aged about twenty-three years, and had a wife and one child, who make their home with his father on Lincoln street. To the wife the blow has come with terrible force, and she will lie stunned for some time, and as well as the parents, upon whom this second blow falls so heavily, and so soon after the loss of their other son, merit the warmest sympathies of the community.

OBITUARY.

GENERAL BREWSTER RANDALL.

This morning about 8 o'clock death closed the life of General Brewster Randall, one of Janesville's well known and highly respected citizens. His illness was of short duration, for though he had reached his seventy-fourth year, yet his vigor and health were such as to allow his continuance of many of the activities of life. Last Wednesday he was at work about his home, and getting tired, and wet with the rain, he caught cold and that evening he was taken with pneumonia. Despite the tender care and skillful treatment given him, the disease would not yield, and this morning death came.

General Randall was by no means an ordinary man. His life was an eventful one, and he had in years past been prominently before the public. The more active years of his life were passed in Ohio, where he first studied law in the office of Joshua R. Giddings, and soon rose to prominence at the bar. Entering the political arena he took rank with such men as Giddings, Ben Wade, Salmon P. Chase, and for years wielded an influence in Ohio politics, which was almost second to none. He was at one time President of the Senate, and to him fell the decision of questions in the great Chase-Wade controversy. He was associated on terms of friendship with him, who has since become President Hayes, and this friendship has never been broken. No further back than a year ago President Hayes, in an interview, spoke in high praise of General Randall, and the wise manner in which he decided the knotty questions which were presented to him in the stormy days referred to. In his years of activity General Randall occupied these positions of responsibility and prominence, and by his faithful, able, and conscientious performance of the duties assigned him, won the respect and confidence of all.

For nearly a score of years past he has lived in or near this city, and has led a rather retired life, seeking no public positions, and content with more quiet recedes than those which marked his earlier life; but he has won and held no less firmly here than there, the esteem and confidence of the community. He was one of the kindest of neighbors, and of a pleasant, social nature, yet very positive in his views, never afraid to express them, decided and firm, yet far from being dogmatic or uncharitable. He was a man of rare good judgment, and of strict integrity and keen conscientiousness. His many excellencies of character won for him friends and admirers, and his death will be greatly mourned as a loss to the community.

He was an attendant of Christ Episcopal church. In politics he was originally a Free Soiler, and on the organization of the Republican party joined himself with that, and has clung closely to that organization and been an active member since that time. His wife died about two years ago, and the members of his family now surviving him are his son, Major George Randall, who is in command at Fort Reno, and who will be unable to leave his post even in this hour of trouble; Charles F. Randall and Frank F. Randall, and Anna Randall, who live at home, the sons being engaged in the grocery business here, in which their father had an interest. The bereavement of many friends will be extended to these sorrowing ones, and the community cannot but mourn the death of such a noble man, whose life has proved not only such a blessing to those of his own home circle, but to every community which has had the honor of his residence.

CITY CONCERNS.

The Cow Question Brought Up—The Gazette Made the City Paper—The Struggle For Street Commissioner—Sundry Business of the Council.

The Common Council met last evening in regular session, all the members present, and Mayor Cobb presiding. After the reading and approval of the minutes, the report of the Board of Education for April, showing an expenditure of $2,407.78, was presented, also the Police Justice reports, which were referred to their appropriate committees, and afterwards reported on favorably and placed on file.

The bond and application of T. J. Salsman for a liquor license were presented, examined, and being reported on favorably the license was granted.

Dr. Henry Palmer, in behalf of the Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Company, asked permission to erect a temporary building, extending over the race at the foot of Bluff street in the First ward, said building to be 20 by 30 feet, and to be erected on piles, with one end of the building resting on the street. He explained that it was to be a temporary building and used for keeping the waste in, and would be removed whenever the city wanted. The only possible use to which the city could put this space thus occupied would be in throwing a bridge across the race, and as this is not now contemplated, permission was given by the Council for the Company to erect the building under the conditions named.

Ald. Croft offered an order instructing the Clerk to draw orders on the City Treasurer, each month for the payment of the city officials except the Treasurer, which should be quarterly. The only change made from the usual custom was that the salaries of engineers and the pay for hauling engines should be included, having before been presented as other bills, and referred to the committee.

Ald. Croft presented an order opening up a certain alley in Block 9, of Rockport, said alley now being obstructed by fences built across it by Patrick Riley, John Wright, L. B. Cutting, and A. B. Barnard. The order was referred to the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and the City Attorney.

THE COW QUESTION.

Ald. Barnes presented an ordinance upon the cow question, it being an amendment to the existing ordinance, so that not even milch cows will be hereafter allowed to run at large.

The ordinance passed to a third reading and under the rules was laid over until the next meeting.

THE CITY PRINTING.

Ald. Nowlan moved that the Gazette be declared the official paper of the city for the coming year and called for the yeas and noes.

Ald. Croft moved as an amendment that the Council vote by ballot. The amendment was lost, Ald. Barnes, Croft, Cox, Hemming and Robinson voting aye, and Ald. Barnes, Conrad, Murdoch, Norris, and Nowlan voting no, the Mayor also voting no.

The original motion to make the Gazette the official paper was then put and carried. Ald. Barnes, Conrad, Murdoch, Norris, Nowlan voting aye, and Ald. Barnes, Croft, Cox, Hemming and Robinson voting no, and the Mayor voting aye.

THE STREET COMMISSIONER.

The Mayor then proceeded to nominate for the position of Street Commissioner. He stated that he understood that Mr. Hield, whose friends had urged his name, was to go South, and that was sufficient reason for not now considering his claims. The Mayor nominated John B. Moon, and a ballot being taken the Council refused to confirm, there being 4 yeas and 6 noes.

Thanking the Council for their courtesy, the Mayor next nominated Martin Barron, but the Council refused again to confirm. Ayes 3, noes 7.

The Mayor then named William Brandt. The Council would not confirm. Ayes 4, noes 6.

The name of Milo H. Curtis was presented, but the ballot stood against him also—ayes 3, noes 7.

The Mayor then announced that he would take two weeks more in selecting names, and on motion adjournment was taken.

HAPPY HOURS.

Last evening, in accordance with the invitations issued by Mrs. Flora Bemis, there was a large gathering of friends at the residence of George W. Bemis, No. 38, South Jackson street. The parlors were well filled, and the gathering was quite dreary. The carpets had been taken up, and the floors prepared for dancing, good music was provided, and the arrangements for a hearty enjoyment of the hours were complete. Those who preferred cards and games to the dance, were equally well cared for, and the guests were received and treated in a truly hospitable manner. At a suitable hour refreshments were served in a very tempting and bountiful manner, fully in keeping with the other arrangements of the evening. The occasion was heartily enjoyed by all the participants, and was one which will be remembered as one of the most pleasant gatherings in the social life of those who shared the proffered hospitality.

MONEY AND VALUABLES.

So many persons are in the habit of sending money through the mails, or otherwise, than by money order, or registered letter, thereby frequently incurring loss and causing trouble to the Postoffice Department, that I have deemed it advisable to call special attention to one of the many valuable suggestions by the Department to the public, as follows: "Never send money, or any other article of value, through the mails except by registered letter." I would also call attention to a fact that appears to be not generally understood; that while extraordinary care is exercised in does the Department make good any loss of registered letter or contents; and the only perfectly safe method of transmitting money by mail is by money order.

THE EAGLE REGIMENT.

HEADQUARTERS, EIGHTH WISCONSIN, JANESVILLE, WIS., April 29, 1880.

To the surviving members of the Eighth Regiment:

In case, however, that any of the members cannot attend during the entire Reunion, they are earnestly requested to report early on Wednesday, the 9th, so that as many as possible may take part in the parade on that day. In the afternoon or evening of the 9th, the Reunion of the Eighth Regiment will take place. From information received it is expected that there will be a full attendance of our members from far and near. I would suggest that members who intend being present, send their names to Comrade A. The jury did not return a finding until between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning, having been out all night. The finding was for the defendant.
